

MANCHES

INTERNATIONAL LITIGATION

Manches' team of experienced international litigation and dispute lawyers can advise on commercial conflicts of all kinds. Our work is wide ranging and covers everyday contractual and intellectual property disputes, heavyweight international litigation, cross-border multi-jurisdictional litigation and international arbitration.

Whatever your problems we deal with them swiftly, robustly, efficiently and always with an eye on the costs. We are not afraid to take aggressive action where the situation demands nor to recommend mediation if there is sufficient common ground to achieve a speedy settlement. Above all we are here to help you achieve your commercial objectives.

International dispute resolution work is often complex. We work with a long-established network of independent law firms in Europe, Asia and America, using our expertise and experience to establish, co-ordinate and control strategy. As well as countries with long established jurisdictions we work in the developing legal regimes in eastern Europe, (Ukraine, The Czech Republic, Russia and Poland) as well as off-shore financial centres such as the BVI and the Cayman islands.
